TIPS TO DO WELL IN THIS EXERCISE!

- Read the options or what you would call the opinions.

- Understand what each opinion is and underline key words. The key words for each opinion should be different so that you could distinguish them from each other.
- While listening the first time through, you need to concentrate a lot .
- Write the number of the speaker next to the opinion as soon as they finish speaking. It is easier and quicker to write down the speaker number as it goes in order in the recording rather than find out the write letter and write it next to the speaker.
- On the second time listening to the recording, confirm your answers and clear any confusion. Again by numbering the opinion.
- Once the recording is over, write down the matching letter next to each speaker.

EXERCISE FIVE

TOTAL: 8 POINTS

- You will listen to an interview between two speakers.
- You will answer 8 multiple choice questions. For each question, there are three written options.
- Text Type: Interview

NOTICE QUESTION 7 IN THIS PAST PAPER.

- Underline key words and analyze the options because a small word that might seem to be insignificant can be the key to finding the right answer.

GENERAL TIPS!

- Read and analyze both the questions and the options carefully.
- Underline key words and brainstorm synonyms for the key words because ideas are usually paraphrased.
- Concentrate on the recording as the questions are very specific.
- It is important to listen to the whole of the conversation.
- Closing your eyes while listening can help.
- Answers that involve numbers can be tricky.

MORE TIPS!

- A small word that might seem to be insignificant can be the key to finding the right answer.
- Try to predict what kind of information is needed and what type of word you need to complete sentences. Make sure the sentence you produce is grammatically accurate, and you use the right form of the word.
- Practice!
- Don't lose attention
- Don't leave any blank answers!

BEWARE OF DISTRACTORS!

What you hear first may not be the right answer, so watch out for distractors. For example, the speaker may say one thing, but then reverse their answer. You may also find that the speaker mentions all the options with slight differences in meaning. Pay attention to the details.
