Important Information

Sometimes we come across a sentence that doesn't have a helping verb.

For example:

My sister rides her bicycle daily.

1- We will have to borrow a helping verb from the “do family”

2- We must check if the verb is in the past tense or present tense.

- If it is in the past , I use “did”.
- If it is in the present, I use “does”/ “do”.
- Then we do what we learnt before :

My sister rides her bicycle daily ,
doesn't she ?

I got them
all correct!
Did you?!
